Before an autism treatment provider can request prior authorization for applied behavior analysis, or ABA, from Blue Cross Behavioral HealthSM, the member must obtain an autism comprehensive diagnostic evaluation.

When requesting prior authorization for ABA, the autism treatment provider must submit documentation from the member's comprehensive diagnostic evaluation that shows that the member meets the criteria for an autism spectrum disorder diagnosis.

Notes:

- Prior authorization is not required for the behavioral health components of the evaluation.
- The autism evaluation center or the other autism evaluation providers involved in completing the evaluation will need to identify the medical specialists who will be evaluating the member. For some BCN commercial members, a referral from the primary care provider is required for each medical specialist who will see the member during the evaluation process.

Important: A comprehensive diagnostic re-evaluation is not required by Blue Cross Behavioral Health. It's optional, based on clinical need. This doesn't apply to the reassessments that licensed behavior analysts and others complete as needed once autism treatment has begun.

Keep reading for more information.

What's required in a comprehensive diagnostic evaluation

The member's comprehensive diagnostic evaluation must:

- Contain diagnostic criteria that are based on the current version of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM), which is published by the American Psychiatric Association

- Be completed by a licensed physician, a licensed psychologist or another licensed clinician who is qualified to diagnose autism by state licensure and related training

How to obtain a comprehensive diagnostic evaluation

There are two ways to obtain a comprehensive diagnostic evaluation:

- For members in Michigan: The comprehensive diagnostic evaluation can be conducted by an approved autism evaluation center, or AAEC, in Michigan. Here's how this works:
 1. The AAEC arranges for the member to be evaluated by each discipline.
 2. The AAEC gives the member or the member's parent or guardian (as applicable) the results of the comprehensive diagnostic evaluation.

Note: In addition, the AAEC may, as an option, record the results on the Autism comprehensive diagnostic evaluation results form and give the form, along with the results, to the member or to the member's parent or guardian.

3. When the member or the member's parent or guardian has the comprehensive diagnostic evaluation results (and the form, if it was completed), he or she gives them to an autism treatment provider.
4. If the treatment plan from the comprehensive diagnostic evaluation includes a recommendation for applied behavior analysis, the autism treatment provider submits a prior authorization request for ABA services to Blue Cross Behavioral Health. Attach the results of the evaluation to the request.

Note: If the comprehensive diagnostic evaluation results are also recorded on the Autism comprehensive diagnostic evaluation results form, the autism treatment provider should include the form when submitting the prior authorization request.

For more information, refer to the "Finding approved autism evaluation centers" section of this document.

- For members in Michigan and in other states: The member or the member's parent or guardian (as applicable) can work with a primary care provider and/or independent autism evaluation providers. Here's how this works:
 1. The providers evaluate the member.
 2. The providers give the member or the member's parent or guardian the results of the comprehensive diagnostic evaluation.

Finding approved autism evaluation centers

One way a member or the member's parent or guardian (as applicable) can obtain a comprehensive diagnostic evaluation is through an approved autism evaluation center.

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan and Blue Care Network continue to build a network of approved autism evaluation centers from qualified facilities. The autism evaluation centers listed in the table below have been approved by Blue Cross and BCN. These centers:

- Meet criteria developed in partnership with the Michigan behavioral health care provider community
- Have shown a comprehensive approach to the diagnosis of autism spectrum disorder that leads to the most accurate diagnoses available

For more information about autism benefits and applied behavior analysis, visit bcbsm.com/autismfaq. Members can also call the behavioral health number on the back of their Blue Cross or BCN ID card.

Important! For the most current contact information for the providers listed in the table below, check with these centers directly and confirm location details when scheduling.

Finding independent autism evaluation providers

Another way a member or the member's parent or guardian can obtain a comprehensive diagnostic evaluation is through a primary care provider or through independent autism evaluation providers.

A member or the member's parent or guardian may work with a primary care provider or independent autism evaluation providers to make or confirm a diagnosis of autism spectrum disorder. Sometimes, the primary care provider will work together with one or more independent autism evaluation providers to complete the evaluation.

Independent autism evaluation providers may include pediatricians, developmental pediatricians, pediatric neurologists, neurologists, child psychologists, child psychiatrists, adult psychiatrists, neuropsychologists, psychologists, and speech and language therapists.

To find an independent autism evaluation provider:

1. Go to bcbsm.com and click Find Care.
2. Click Individuals and families.
3. Under Find a Doctor, click Search without logging in.
4. If prompted, choose a location.
5. In the upper-right corner of the screen, do one of the following:
 - Click the I don't know my network button.

9. Click the search icon.
10. In the search results, locate a provider.
11. Click the provider's name and review the information. Make sure the provider accepts the plan you have.

Finding a licensed behavior analyst, for treatment

Members who meet the requirements for receiving ABA must obtain that treatment from a licensed behavior analyst*. The analyst must request prior authorization from Blue Cross Behavioral Health before providing those services, for your treatment to be eligible for coverage.

Note: In addition, the licensed behavior analyst must be a provider for the member's health plan.

The names of licensed behavior analysts are available in the provider search at bcbsm.com. To access those names, complete the following steps:

1. Visit bcbsm.com and click Find Care.
2. Under Find a Doctor, click Search without logging in.
3. If prompted, choose a location.
4. In the upper-right corner of the screen, do one of the following:
 - Click the I don't know my network button.
 - Click the Change your location or plan link and then click I don't know my network.
